

Announcing Blackstone's Future Women Innovators Program

Blackstone's Future Women Innovators Program is a unique 1.5 day program for software developers, giving participants early exposure to technology and business through interactive information seminars, networking, and skill-building sessions.

Program participants will have the opportunity to interact with technologists and recruiting professionals at Blackstone in New York. The Blackstone Future Women Innovators Program introduces the knowledge, training, and skills necessary for a well-guided career path in technology.

Blackstone Innovations is the technology team at the core of each of Blackstone's businesses and new growth initiatives. Serving both internal and external clients, we work to build the next generation of systems that manage risk, create efficiency and improve transparency within the firm and across our broad community of investors and portfolio companies.

New York Program: Thursday, April 12 - Friday, April 13, 2018

Applications must be received by March 28, 2018.

Blackstone's Future Women Innovators Program is open to current freshman and sophomore women who are interested in exploring technology careers with Blackstone's Innovations Group. To apply to Blackstone's Future Women Innovators Program, please visit the internship section of our careers website at: <http://www.blackstone.com/careers/University>

Please note selected applicants will be notified by early April 2018. Travel and hotel accommodations will be provided by Blackstone.
